

RANDOM REFERENCES

(Continued from Page Five.)

The La Mode Millinery extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend their fall opening to be held Saturday evening, Sept. 10, from 8 to 10 p. m. Ford's orchestra will be in attendance. The store will be full of ordinary and becoming patterns and street hats. No millinery will be on sale Saturday evening. The attention of our many customers and friends is directed to our new address, 2438 Washington ave., formerly 539 24th st.

Marriage License—A marriage license has been issued to John August Magnuson of Ely, Nevada, and Cora Wheeler of San Diego, Cal.

NOTICE, MOOSE!—All members are requested to be present Friday evening the 9th. Brother F. Kohlenberg will be present and give an interesting report of the convention. R. A. Irvine, Sec'y.

Operated On—Jacob Hellos was operated on at the hospital this morning for appendicitis. He is reported to have successfully passed through the ordeal. Mr. Hellos is employed at the Falkstaff cafe.

Wanted—Boy with bicycle to deliver. Apply Watson-Tanner Clothing Co.

From Lovelock, Nevada—Raymond Ray and wife stopped off in Ogden a short time today while on their way to Provo to visit Mrs. Ray's father, Judge John E. Booth. They are residing near Lovelock, Nevada, where Mr. Ray is in the mining business. He reports conditions in his locality as promising. Mr. and Mrs. Ray will visit Fillmore before returning to their Nevada home.

The Congress Dancing academy is undergoing a thorough cleaning preparatory to its opening, which will occur during the present month.

Matt a Godfather—A. J. F. and Mrs. Browning-Ellis on Tuesday, Sept. 6, Miss Browning is now a grandfather and a proud one at that.

Hot Tamales at the American Pop Corn Wagon, 24th and Wash.

Dangerously Ill—Francis Ritter, formerly of the Brainard and Ritter Real Estate firm, is critically ill at his home in Riverdale. Mr. Ritter is suffering from complicated kidney troubles and at the advanced age of sixty-eight years the outlook is considered discouraging.

I make them—Hot Tamales. American Pop Corn Wagon, 24th and Wash.

Asks for Divorce—Porter G. McCreery has petitioned the district court to dissolve the marriage contract between himself and his wife Emma McCreery. He states that they were married at Florence, Colorado, May 25, 1896, and that his wife, without provocation, deserted him May 1, 1908, and that he has not seen her since. There is one minor child.

"The Coal" in hard or soft, is best for winter, 2001 pounds in each ton. Shurtliff & Co. Phones 18.

I lead, others follow, with Fresh Buttered Pop Corn. American Pop Corn Wagon, 24th and Wash.

NOTICE, MOOSE!—All members are requested to be present Friday evening the 9th. Brother F. Kohlenberg will be present and give an interesting report of the convention. R. A. Irvine, Sec'y.

Wanted—Young man with experience in dry goods or men's furnishings. Apply in person. John Scowcroft & Sons Co.

Dainty fountain specials, every day, at Ward's spacious parlors. Two stores.

Always the best, Lewis' Good Coal. Success comes through excellence. B. & G. Butter proves this.

Better fill your coal bin with Lewis' Good Coal. Phone 143.

SOCIETY

BLAIR-RUTHHART.

Miss Lena Blair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blair of Ogden and George C. Ruthhart, a prominent young business man of Blackfoot, Idaho, were united in marriage on Saturday and Sunday evening an informal reception was given at the Blair

The Cheyenne Frontier Day Wild West Show at the Ogden Fair Grounds September 14 and 15.

General admission 50 cents; children under fourteen 25 cents.

home. A large number of relatives and friends enjoyed a delightful evening and a tempting repast and extended to the young couple most happy congratulations.

The wedding gifts were numerous and beautiful and many pleasant messages were received from distant friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruthhart departed Monday morning for their new home in Blackfoot, a large company of friends accompanying them to the train with the usual showers of rice, gay repartee and best wishes.

BROWNING DINNER.

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Browning gave a ten-course dinner Monday afternoon at their camp in Beaver Canyon in honor of Joe Thomas, Dr. E. C. Rich and Horace Peery, who will soon be called on a mission to Japan.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Scowcroft, Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Rich, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Peery, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Peery, Harmon Peery, Louis Peery, Miss Ethel Harmon of Salt Lake and Mrs. J. E. Garner of Bozeman, Montana.

Mrs. S. J. Griffin was a passenger on yesterday's Overland train bound for San Francisco and vicinity, to visit relatives and friends for a few weeks.

WITNESSES IN WRECK CASE

The district court and a jury are occupied again today in hearing the case of Mary Jepperson against the Oregon Short Line company with no prospect of concluding the same before tomorrow.

In her testimony in the case, Margaret Hall stated that she lives near the scene of the accident and that on February 8 she heard the crash of a locomotive car and the motor car as they came together. She rushed to the scene of the accident and offered her services to the injured, Miss Jepperson, she said, was apparently less and she gathered snow from the ground and bathed her face with it.

Mrs. Hall stated also that she returned to her home and got the canphor bottle and administered camphor to Miss Jepperson. She accompanied the woman to the depot and remained by her side until she was removed to the hospital. It was the opinion of the witness that Miss Jepperson was virtually unconscious all the time she was at the depot, and that she was badly injured. She said the lady was bruised about the face and arms and body, and that she suffered a good deal of pain.

Mrs. Mary Baxter, who also lives near the place where the accident occurred, testified to practically the same facts that Mrs. Hall testified to, she having accompanied Mrs. Hall on her mission of aiding the injured. She agreed with Mrs. Hall that a man with a pencil and paper appeared on the scene at the depot and asked Miss Jepperson questions regarding the accident, and that the injured lady made replies, or attempted to, to the questions propounded, but she said she did not know whether Miss Jepperson told her age, where she was hurt, where she lived or where she was going. Mrs. Baxter and Mrs. Hall also visited the plaintiff at the hospital and they said the woman was very ill there.

Edward B. Hanson stated on the witness stand that he was in the motor car at the time of the accident and that he saw the plaintiff thrown violently against the back of a car seat. She fainted and a man, unknown to him, raised her head and aided the ladies who came to the rescue in resuscitating her. He could not say whether she struck her head against the seat or whether her chest struck it. He saw her after the injured people were taken to the depot and her condition had not improved, as far as he could tell.

This afternoon Drs. Condon and Coulter were placed upon the witness stand to testify. They stated that Miss Jepperson is suffering a form of paralysis that might have been sustained through injuries such as she received in the accident of February 8.

The plaintiff likely will be through with her side of the case this afternoon and the defense will begin the introduction of evidence in support of its theory.

TONIGHT AT NEW OGDEN THEATRE

HENRIETTA CROSMAN In the Brilliant "ANTI-MATRIMONY"

Comedy By PERCY MACKAYE

BOX OFFICE NOW OPEN. PRICES: LOWER FLOOR, $1.50 AND $1.00; BALCONY, $1.00. 75c, 50c; GALLERY, 25c.

LEGISLATOR WAS BRIBED

How New York Assemblyman Was Paid His Price

New York, Sept. 8.—The banking and stock speculating industry extended to law makers by the brokerage firm of Ellingswood and Cunningham, from April, 1909, to February, 1909, were brought out with startling vividness at today's hearing of the legislative graft hearing. Former Assemblyman Louis Bedell, who during the period in question, was chairman of the assemblyman's committee on railroads was shown by the evidence to have been apparently particularly favored. The books of Ellingswood and Cunningham showed that while his stock operations during the five years consisted solely of the purchase of 300 shares of New York transportation stock, the money for this stock, with some $20,000 additional, had been advanced by Ellingswood and Cunningham.

Most of these advances, according to the testimony, had been made by H. H. Vreeland, president of the Metropolitan Street Railway company; H. A. Robinson, general solicitor of the company, and G. Tracy Rogers, president of the New York State Railway station. Between May 3 and August, 1903, Mr. Bedell drew out in cash an aggregate of $21,750, placed to his credit by these individuals, or no record could be found in the memorandum examined today that he had at any time returned any part of it.

AUTO DRIVERS ARE IN COURT

Frank Peters, arrested for speeding an automobile on Washington avenue, September 5, failed to appear to answer to the charge in police court this morning and forfeited a bond of $25. D. A. Smythe, against whom a charge of speeding was dismissed in the police court yesterday morning, must now face another and separate charge of speeding, as he again ran afoul of the omnipresent automobile officer this morning. Whether the old case will be taken up against him or that he will be merely tried on the new one has not been determined, as he was not arraigned in court at this morning's session.

Frank McDonald, John Holden and John Phillips, charged with vagrancy, pleaded guilty and were each fined $10 or ten days. The trio was arrested near the Union depot yesterday.

Al Lang pleaded guilty to the charge of being unlawfully drunk and accepted without complaint a fine of $5 or five days.

Jerry Socks, for disturbing the peace last night, was fined $5 or five days. Socks pleaded guilty.

Elmer Dean, who a few days ago caused a distress of drunkenness and car, forfeited a bond of $30 by non-appearance.

TWO DAYS FOR BEING LOADED

George Harniss, who yesterday morning pleaded not guilty to the charge of being unlawfully drunk, was given a hearing in police court this morning. He reiterated his statement of yesterday that he had been drugged. Despite this plea he was adjudged guilty of drunkenness and sent back to jail to serve two more days.

Harniss told a rather improbable story of having met two fellows on Labor Day who invited him to take a drink out of a small vial which one of them produced from under any circumstances, Harniss took the proffered vial and imbibed. The liquid tasted strange to the drinker. His eyes blinked queerly, he felt faint and then consciousness fled away. The subtle fluid had done its work. When he awoke he was in the city prison with a charge of drunkenness chalked against him, and worst of all he was broke—he had been robbed.

OGDEN ORATORS AT MORGAN CITY

Judge Howell and District Attorney Nathan J. Harris were on the speakers' list at Morgan City Labor Day and their remarks were highly appreciated. The Judge was called to fill the vacancy occasioned by the absence of Apostle Haber J. Grant, but there is no evidence that the Judge undertook to sing.

A resident of Morgan stated that the Ogden orators were well received by the people of Morgan, they being particularly impressed with the ideas advanced by Judge Howell that the people should be loyal to their local interests and improve conditions, especially in regards to the establishment of manufacturing institutions and in the improvement of the farms and homes.

September 5 was a dual holiday for Morgan. It was Labor Day and it also marked the fiftieth anniversary of the city. The day was duly observed and an interesting program given during the afternoon.

Famous Actor at Orpheum this Week was Formerly a Pastor

It may be interesting to some to know that the distinguished actor, Mr. Edward Davis, M. A., who is presenting "The Picture of Dorian Grey," at the Orpheum theater this week, was formerly a clergyman. His last pastorate of the Central church of Oakland, California, extended over a period of four years. Mr. Davis was not much more than a young man when he left the pulpit, but even then he had won national notice as a sensational pulpit orator. Since that time, in the ten years of his stage career, he has won distinction as a playwright as well as a player, having successfully produced during the various seasons "The Seventh Commandment," "The Untold Story," "A Man of the World," "All Rivers Meet at Sea," and his latest triumph, "The Picture of Dorian Grey." Of all these successful pieces, none, perhaps, gave better opportunity to show the actor's great ability than the one in which he now appears. It is the most elaborately staged act that has ever appeared in Ogden. One that appeals to all classes, and it alone is well worth the price of admission.

ALL-STAR TEAM TO PLAY OGDENS

Murphy is to pitch for the Ogden team in the game Saturday against the All-Star county league team. Morgan or Smith will pitch for the county boys and Snooks catch.

The game will be played at the Fair Grounds and a good attendance is expected.

WOODMAN ROASTS VETERAN DELANEY

Says Kaufman's Manager Did Not Deal Fairly With Big Jim Jeffries.

Joe Woodman, manager for Sam Langford, is out with letters to the various sporting editors roasting Big Jim Jeffries. He says that the manager of Delaney's man, Al Kaufman, was to have fought Woodman's man, Sam Langford. At the eleventh hour Langford took a run-out powder. Now Woodman is out with a statement that Delaney did not play fair with Jeffries.

Balderdash, Joe and piffle. Delaney took Jeff and made him a world's champion. He made Corbett a world's champion; also, Delaney and Jeffries disrespected. Then Delaney told the world at large that Johnson was a better man than Jeffries, and Billy made good his prediction by going up to Reno and helping Johnson make good.

Delaney has the entire confidence of the American sporting public. Billy is the old-school follower of the game. His reputation needs no humble word that the writer may insert in his favor, but if any word we might say in Delaney's behalf would do him any good we would rob the dictionary of its contents.

There is just one Billy Delaney in sport. And it's the Billy Delaney of Oakland, Cal., that Woodman would belittle. It's a sorry business. The veteran has grown gray in the service of boxing. Not once has the finger of scorn bent itself in his direction.

Going into the vernacular, our old friend Billy may let his stand as it lays.

CHALLENGE ALL-STAR TEAM

Now comes the All-Scrubs, another baseball nine composed of players from the ranks of the erstwhile county league, and issues a defiant challenge to play the All-Stars for any amount of money from $100 to $1000. The new aggregation says that it is willing to meet the All-Stars at any time and any place, and is anxious to have the game pulled off as soon as possible.

The challengers make only one stipulation, which is that the All-Stars use only the players named in the line-up which was published in the Standard in the article telling of the proposed game between the All-Stars and the Lobsters.

Members of the All-Scrubs team say that certain of the players in the county league banded themselves together and usurped the title of All Stars without having proved themselves to be the really best players of the league. The players in the new nine contend that they have picked from what the "Stars" would term "scrubs" a better ball team than the first picked nine.

It is to prove this assertion of the Scrubs that they issue the challenge and offer to back it up with their money. The managers of the challenging team are S. H. Peterson of Huntsville and Joe Storey of North Ogden.

The lineup of the team follows: S. H. Peterson of Huntsville, left field; A. Wanggaard of Huntsville, center field; T. Brown of North Ogden, third base; D. Wanggaard of Huntsville, shortstop; C. Shaw of North Ogden, second base; Roy Chadwick of North Ogden, pitcher; Roy Snooks of North Ogden, catcher; Randall of North Ogden, first base; M. Beus of Hooper, right field.

TIE VOTE EXPECTED IN BALLINGER CASE

Minneapolis, Sept. 8.—Additional members of the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee arrived today to attend the executive session tomorrow.

Mr. Denby had been defeated by the Michigan primaries. Representative Martin E. Olmstead, another Republican member, is expected.

The presence of Mr. Denby and Mr. Olmstead at the committee meeting will give the Republicans five votes on any action that may be taken.

There are four Democratic members here and an insurgent Republican, Mr. Madison of Kansas. The Democrats are relying on his support on questions at issue.

Senator Root of New York has not advised the committee so far as to know whether he will attend. In any event he could not reach here in time for tomorrow's meeting. With the aid of Mr. Root, it is probable that a tie vote will be recorded on the matter to be acted upon, providing Representative Madison assists the Democrats.

HOLDUP WAS NOT KILLED BY STONE

Colorado Springs, Sept. 8.—That the lone highwayman who was killed while holding up Midland train No. 3, near Divide, on the night of September 1, did not come to his death as the result of a blow from a stone in the hands of Engineer Frank Stewart, but rather from a gunshot wound received during the struggle, is the finding of the coroner's jury.

According to the report of the jury, which was made yesterday afternoon at Cripple Creek, the shot was "fired by a hand unknown." It was found that the blow dealt by Engineer Stewart was serious, but not fatal. All attempts to identify the hold-up have been unsuccessful.

ACCURATE FIRING.

San Francisco, Sept. 8.—Remarkably accurate firing with disappearing ten-inch guns was done by the Twenty-seventh company from Fort Winfield Scott at the entrance to San Francisco bay, yesterday. Firing at the range of 4,500 yards at a moving target in a rough sea, the gunners made five hits out of six. A curious accident befell the sixth shot. The large projectile, weighing 640 pounds, flew to pieces after traveling about half its course.

ONCE A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN.

New York, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Conchita Garcia-Lambert, 86 years old, one of the most beautiful women of her time, and daughter-in-law of William G. Lambert, one of the founders of the Equitable Life Assurance society, is dead in Saint Luke's hospital here of pneumonia. She was the daughter of John P. Garcia, one of the wealthiest and most prominent Cuban planters of his day.

PINCHOT MAKES NO COMMENTS

ST. PAUL, Sept. 7.—Gifford Pinchot was in his room at a hotel with his teeth in a July year when the first report that the investigating committee had decided against Ballinger was told him. He withdrew his teeth quietly, looked intently at the reporter who bore the news and asked for all particulars regarding the committee's doings.

Beyond saying "that is very interesting news," he had absolutely nothing to say.

Hay Makes No Comment. Governor Hay of Washington, who upheld Mr. Ballinger to Governor Stubbs of Kansas when the latter declared that the secretary of the interior should be kicked out of office, also refused to make any comment.

The resolution adopted by five members of the committee was almost the sole topic of conversation tonight among delegates to the conservation congress.

HERE IS ANOTHER VIEW OF LOVE

(By Dr. Max Nordau.)

Healthy and natural love is always clearly conscious of its purpose. It is the longing for the possession, the demand for that union which is able to bring about the origination of posterity. In strong individuals love sets free impulses that are sufficiently powerful to triumph over every opposing will and to overcome every obstacle. In individuals with weak wills it does not become converted into actions.

The strength of the love of any being ought, therefore, not to be measured by the exertions which it puts forth in order to acquire the beloved, for the magnitude of these exertions depends upon the strength of his will and not upon the strength of his love. It must nevertheless be added to limitations, that in the healthy and normal person all the brain centers are developed in pretty much the same proportions, so that individuals who have weak wills will also hardly possess the instinct of love to any marked extent, whereas those individuals who are able to love violently will also, as a rule, possess powerful wills.

The difference in the importance of the two sexes, so far as the maintenance of the race is concerned, also causes corresponding differences in their amatory lives. The part which the woman plays is by far the more important. She has to supply the whole material for the formation of a new being, to elaborate it completely within her own organism, and, above all, to impart to it her own qualities, just as she has inherited them from her forefathers.

Man, again, only supplies the stimulation to this tedious and difficult, yet heroic work, upon which the quality of the work in question is to some degree dependent, just as it is true also. To cite an example, the same dynamite burns harmlessly or flares up brilliantly, or explodes with terrific force, according as it is respectively set on fire by a live coal or a lighted match, or an explosive.

A woman has an instinctively sensation that she ought not to make any mistake that any error would have alike for herself and her posterity results that could not be made good, that it would under all circumstances draw along with it the lavish expenditure of a comparatively large amount of organic labor, and she is, therefore, extremely distrustful and careful to avoid the possibility of such an error. On the other hand, she realizes as a certainty that she has not made a mistake, when she has found the right man, and in such a case she will be far more ready to give up her own life than that man.

NEW STRIKE HIGH.

Following the later discoveries the sampling of an eighteen-inch strike returned values of $400 and $500 a ton.

While not enough development has been done to fully prove the strike, its importance is enhanced by the finding of samples of the rich ore at three widely separated places, in as many claims of the company's group, the finds being nearly enough in line to indicate that they have come from the same vein.

The property is in a hitherto neglected district only five miles west of Ogden City and thirteen miles west of Virginia City. It is admittedly a region of great mineral possibilities and indications are that expectations of the new operators are to be more than realized.

VETERAN WESTERNER SUMMONED BY DEATH

Logan, Sept. 7.—Yesterday evening Jacob S. Earl, one of the most interesting and picturesque characters of Logan, passed away, at the age of 89 years. Born in St. Johns, New Brunswick, December 28, 1821, he moved with his parents to Toronto, Canada, in 1833, where his parents joined the Mormon church. He was baptized into the new faith in 1834, in which year the Earls moved to the United States.

Young Earl was thrown into the Carthage jail, where he was confined until proven innocent of the charges made against him.

In July, 1846, when the Mormons were called upon to furnish men for the Mexican war, he was drafted into the Mormon battalion. After being mustered out at Los Angeles, he reenlisted in the United States army, under General Guernsey. He was sent to San Diego and, while there, aided a few others in erecting a giant flag pole on which the flag of the United States was hung, the first flag to be hoisted in that region.

PINCHOT MAKES NO COMMENTS

ST. PAUL, Sept. 7.—Gifford Pinchot was in his room at a hotel with his teeth in a July year when the first report that the investigating committee had decided against Ballinger was told him. He withdrew his teeth quietly, looked intently at the reporter who bore the news and asked for all particulars regarding the committee's doings.

Beyond saying "that is very interesting news," he had absolutely nothing to say.

Hay Makes No Comment. Governor Hay of Washington, who upheld Mr. Ballinger to Governor Stubbs of Kansas when the latter declared that the secretary of the interior should be kicked out of office, also refused to make any comment.

The resolution adopted by five members of the committee was almost the sole topic of conversation tonight among delegates to the conservation congress.

HERE IS ANOTHER VIEW OF LOVE

(By Dr. Max Nordau.)

Healthy and natural love is always clearly conscious of its purpose. It is the longing for the possession, the demand for that union which is able to bring about the origination of posterity. In strong individuals love sets free impulses that are sufficiently powerful to triumph over every opposing will and to overcome every obstacle. In individuals with weak wills it does not become converted into actions.

The strength of the love of any being ought, therefore, not to be measured by the exertions which it puts forth in order to acquire the beloved, for the magnitude of these exertions depends upon the strength of his will and not upon the strength of his love. It must nevertheless be added to limitations, that in the healthy and normal person all the brain centers are developed in pretty much the same proportions, so that individuals who have weak wills will also hardly possess the instinct of love to any marked extent, whereas those individuals who are able to love violently will also, as a rule, possess powerful wills.

The difference in the importance of the two sexes, so far as the maintenance of the race is concerned, also causes corresponding differences in their amatory lives. The part which the woman plays is by far the more important. She has to supply the whole material for the formation of a new being, to elaborate it completely within her own organism, and, above all, to impart to it her own qualities, just as she has inherited them from her forefathers.

Man, again, only supplies the stimulation to this tedious and difficult, yet heroic work, upon which the quality of the work in question is to some degree dependent, just as it is true also. To cite an example, the same dynamite burns harmlessly or flares up brilliantly, or explodes with terrific force, according as it is respectively set on fire by a live coal or a lighted match, or an explosive.

A woman has an instinctively sensation that she ought not to make any mistake that any error would have alike for herself and her posterity results that could not be made good, that it would under all circumstances draw along with it the lavish expenditure of a comparatively large amount of organic labor, and she is, therefore, extremely distrustful and careful to avoid the possibility of such an error. On the other hand, she realizes as a certainty that she has not made a mistake, when she has found the right man, and in such a case she will be far more ready to give up her own life than that man.

NEW STRIKE HIGH.

Following the later discoveries the sampling of an eighteen-inch strike returned values of $400 and $500 a ton.

While not enough development has been done to fully prove the strike, its importance is enhanced by the finding of samples of the rich ore at three widely separated places, in as many claims of the company's group, the finds being nearly enough in line to indicate that they have come from the same vein.

The property is in a hitherto neglected district only five miles west of Ogden City and thirteen miles west of Virginia City. It is admittedly a region of great mineral possibilities and indications are that expectations of the new operators are to be more than realized.

VETERAN WESTERNER SUMMONED BY DEATH

Logan, Sept. 7.—Yesterday evening Jacob S. Earl, one of the most interesting and picturesque characters of Logan, passed away, at the age of 89 years. Born in St. Johns, New Brunswick, December 28, 1821, he moved with his parents to Toronto, Canada, in 1833, where his parents joined the Mormon church. He was baptized into the new faith in 1834, in which year the Earls moved to the United States.

Young Earl was thrown into the Carthage jail, where he was confined until proven innocent of the charges made against him.

In July, 1846, when the Mormons were called upon to furnish men for the Mexican war, he was drafted into the Mormon battalion. After being mustered out at Los Angeles, he reenlisted in the United States army, under General Guernsey. He was sent to San Diego and, while there, aided a few others in erecting a giant flag pole on which the flag of the United States was hung, the first flag to be hoisted in that region.

AT THE BRIDGE PARTY.

"Did you observe that the expert Mrs. Shuffleton insisted on having me for a partner?" inquired Mr. Meekton.

"Yes," replied his wife. "Her skill is such that no one would play unless she consented to a handicap."—Washington Star.

And a Vacation Train, Maybe.

"Gracious!" exclaimed Mrs. Goodley. "Just listen to that clergyman! He's positive he's swearing. Evidently he's missed his vocation."

"No," replied her husband. "I think it was his train."—Catholic Standard and Times.

READ THE CLASS ADS TODAY